FOUR GUNMEN PUT TO DEATH

For Murder of Rosenthal
Last July.

ELECTROCUTION WAS SUCCESS

Gruesome Scenes Attend the Last Hour of Convicted Murderers.

TOOK 40 MINUTES TO DO IT

Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N. Y., April 13.—Harry Horowitz (Gyp the Blood,) Louis Rosenberg (Lefty Louie,) Frank Cirofci (Dago Frank,) and Frank Seidenhauer (Whitey Lewis,) four gunmen convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, died in the electric chair at Sing Sing, at dawn this morning. None confessed guilt, none mentioned the name of Charles Becker, the police lieutenant convicted on the charge of instigating the murder, but granted a new trial. Whitey Lewis made the only statement, but he didn't flatly assert his innocence. He just mumbled, "I didn't shoot at Rosenthal." The executions occupied 40 minutes, and there was no accident during the executions.

An hour and a half before the hour appointed for the gunmen's death, Mrs. Cirofci arrived from Albany and had to be almost carried into the prison. Upon her last visit hung the fate of "Dago Frank" whom his mother, according to report, tried to persuade to make a full confession—and thus make it possible for him to secure a postponement of execution. One of her sons came with her and helped her into the warden's office.

Before this the road had been cleared by an armed guard, of all the curious bystanders who had been hovering about the prison all night. No one without an invitation to the execution was within the line that had been drawn at the limits of the State property.

Even these were driven from the road in front of the prison so that Mrs. Cirofci should not be troubled or delayed.

The prison, soundless and dark save for the slits of light that marked corridors, seemed to slumber in the light of a late moon. There was nothing to hint that within an hour and a half, it would be the scene of a history-making execution.

Forty minutes passed between the time that "Dago Frank" was strapped into the chair until the last of the quartette of gunmen was pronounced dead. "Whitey Lewis" died stoutly declaring his innocence and he was denouncing a witness named Stannish when the electric current stopped him. Dago Frank broke down during the hours preceding the execution and was in almost a complete state of collapse as he was led into the death room.

It was 5:36 o'clock when State Electrician Davis, after testing the electric chair, nodded to Warden Clancy, who gave the signal to bring Cirofci from his cell. Grasping a crucifix in each hand, Cirofci was brought into the death room and quickly strapped into the chair.

While Father Cashin murmured the prayer of death, which was responded to by Cirofci, the current was turned on. Two shocks were given and "Dago Frank" was pronounced dead by Dr. Farr.

Frank Seidenhauer was the second to be put to death. Two shocks were required before death came. He was saying, "I did not shoot. I did not shoot at Rosenthal. Stannish testified—when the electric current was applied.

Harry Horowitz, called "Gyp the Blood," was the third to be executed. Two shocks were given him. He was pronounced dead at 6:02. He made no statement and was repeating a Jewish prayer at his death.

Louis Rosenberg, "Lefty Louie," was the fourth gunman to be brought into the chamber. He displayed an unusual power of resistance to the electric current and was not pronounced dead until after the third contact. He made no statement.

The last avenue of hope for the four gunmen was closed when Gov. Glynn refused to grant a stay, pending the second trial of Lieut. Chas. Becker, who was convicted in the lower courts of having plotted the murder of Herman Rosenthal to prevent him from making graft revelations to District Attorney Whitman. The Court of Appeals, in reversing the decision of Becker, declared itself unconvinced that he had directed the murder, but upheld the judgment of the lower court that the four gunmen had been the instruments. Motions for a new trial, on the ground of new evidence, made by their attorneys, were denied, and they were sentenced to die during the week beginning April 13.

Four days before their execution a delegation of New York rabbis visited Gov. Glynn and pleaded in vain with him to postpone the execution until after the second trial of Becker. The Governor remained fixed in the opinion that he had already expressed—that Becker's guilt or innocence could in no way affect the guilt of the gunmen who had been judged guilty by two courts.

The real names of the men who have been known as "Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Louie," "Dago Frank" and "Whitey Lewis" were Harry Horowitz, Louis Rosenberg, Frank Cirofci and Frank Seidenhauer. The youngest, Lefty Louie, was 21, the oldest, Dago Frank, 27. All were Jews except Dago Frank. As the nickname implies, he was an Italian. Gyp the Blood and Lefty Louie were married. Their young widows survive them.

Eleventh Hour Confession.

Albany, N. Y., April 13.—Shortly before "Dago Frank" Cirofci went to the death chair in Sing Sing prison early to-day, he told Warden Clancy that "Gyp the Blood" Horowitz, "Lefty Louie" Rosenberg and Harry Vallon, the informer, fired the shots which killed Herman Rosenthal, for which crime the gunmen paid their lives.

"So far as I know, Becker had nothing to do with this case," the gunman also declared. "It was a gamblers' fight."

Cirofci averred he was five miles away when the crime was committed and that "Whitey Lewis" Seidenhauer, although present at the shooting, did not fire any shots. Cirofci, however, did not deny he was included in the original plot to slay Rosenthal, even admitting that two nights before the gambler was slain he went with the other gangsters to look for the intended victim. They were frightened away from Rosenthal by men they thought to be detectives.

The condemned man also admitted that earlier in the night of the actual killing he was in the "murder car" with the gunmen, but he insisted that he left them before they shot the gambler.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS.
RILEY AT OWENSBORO

The Owensesboro Messenger of Friday says:

Found lying across the bed in her room in an unconscious state at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, Mrs. Alice Cooper Riley, wife of W. J. Riley, a well known citizen of Owensesboro, died at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, without regaining consciousness. Physicians attributed Mrs. Riley's death to a stroke of paralysis. She had been in failing health for some time, but her death coming so unexpectedly, caused a shock to her family.

Mrs. Riley was born near Lively and had resided in Ohio and Daviess counties practically all her life. For the last twelve years she had been living in Owensesboro. She was a lifelong member of the Methodist church, and her many noble traits of character made her beloved and respected by everyone who knew her. She was sixty-two years old at the time of her death.

Surviving her are her husband, W. J. Riley, three sons, M. C. and W. H. Riley, of Owensesboro, and J. R. Riley, of Birmingham, Ala., and three daughters, Misses Lora, Flora and Mary Lee Riley, all of whom were at the bedside of their mother when the end came. One brother, Mr. Sam Cooper, of California, also survives her.

The funeral services will be conducted from New Bethel church in Ohio county, at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, and the remains will be interred in the church cemetery there.

Note—Mrs. Riley was a cousin of Mrs. F. M. Taylor, Mrs. M. E. Tinsley and Rev. G. W. and Col. C. M. Barnett, of Hartford.

THE MINE FOLKS FAILED TO AGREE

And the Joint Sessions
Were Adjourned.

MATTER WILL REST AWHILE

Not Wage Scale, But Working Conditions the Alleged Contention.

STRIKE SEEMS NOT PROBABLE

Louisville, Ky., April 11.—Representatives of the coal miners and operators in the Western Kentucky district, No. 23, who have been in conference here for nearly two weeks, adjourned their sessions today without reaching an agreement.

It is reported that representatives of the miners and operators could not agree regarding the changes in working conditions, involving the cost production.

The miners' representatives will discuss the matter further with the miners themselves before action is taken. Six thousand miners are said to be involved in the negotiations.

The difficulty, which finally appeared insurmountable, referred not to the wage scale, but to the working conditions. The mine operators made their final proposal to the miners last night and this morning heard their reply. The miners were not satisfied with the proposal and declined to accept it.

The miners have not declared a strike, but that is always a possibility under the circumstances, although the mine operators say that they do not believe that matters will come to that pass.

Every two years the mine operators and the representatives of the miners meet to adjust the wage scale and any other matters that may have come up between them. At nearly every meeting the long discussion has been followed by a threatened strike, but the difficulties have been adjusted.

The miners and mine operators met for their conference at the miners' chamber in the city hall a week ago last Tuesday. They soon moved their conference to a room at the Seelbach hotel for greater privacy. Each side had a proposal, which it presented, and these were gone over clause by clause. The greatest hitch came in the clauses concerning the conditions under which the miners shall be required to work.

No further action can be taken in the matter until the miners who were at the conference have an opportunity to discuss the matter with the other miners.

Miners Stand Pat.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 11.—The decision of the bituminous coal operators in Ohio at their meeting in Columbus yesterday to test the constitutionality of the anti-screen law in that State, called forth the statement at headquarters of the United Mine Workers to-day that under no circumstances would the miners agree to waive the operation of the law pending the court proceedings.

PREDICTS GASOLINE WILL COST 40 CENTS A GALLON

Cincinnati, O., April 13.—Some rather curious statistics were brought out at the convention of the American Chemical Society here for the benefit of automobileists. In his address on "Some Economic Phases of the Use of Gasoline" Prof. Benjamin T. Brooks, of the Bureau of Mines, Washington, declared that gasoline is rapidly approaching the 40-cent a gallon mark, at which point Prof. Brooks declared alcohol would be an active competitor.

He estimated the present annual production of gasoline in America to be twenty-five million barrels of forty-two gallons each and that it is behind the demand made on it by motor vehicles, dry cleaners and various industries. To replace this amount of gasoline by 96 per cent. alcohol made from corn would require 450,000,000 bushels, Prof. Brooks said.

It was stated in congressional circles that a vote on the Panama Canal tolls repeal is not expected before June 1.

BIG INCREASE IN PER CAPITA DEBT

Of the State of Kentucky
Is Shown

BY RECENT CENSUS BULLETIN

It Has Increased Two Hundred Per Cent. From 1880 to 1913.

IT IS NOW RATED AT $1.90

Washington, April 11.—Preliminary figures from a bulletin soon to be issued by the Bureau of Census pertaining to the debt, funds and investments of the State of Kentucky from 1880 to 1913 were made public by the Department of Commerce.

It shows that the per capita indebtedness in Kentucky increased nearly 200 per cent. from 1880 to 1913.

The report says in part:

"Although the population of the State increased steadily during the period of thirty years, the ratio of increase was not sufficient to offset the marked increase in the debt less sinking fund assets, hence the debt per capita advanced 200 per cent. from 1880 to 1913.

"In 1880 the total debt of Kentucky at the close of the fiscal year June 30, was $1,863,000; in 1891 it was $2,562,000; in 1913 it had advanced to $4,452,000. The population of the State increased from 1,649,000 in 1880 to 2,336,000 in 1913; the average increase of 21,000 in population was not sufficient to appreciably affect the average increase of $101,000 in the total debt less sinking fund assets, hence the continued increase in the debt per capita."

"In 1880 the debt per capita was $0.66; in 1891 it was $0.98; in 1913 it had risen to $1.90, this being the largest amount recorded for any year during the period discussed.

"In contrast with the State of Kentucky, we find that, taking the entire debt (less sinking fund assets) for the forty-eight States, the per capita, according to the latest report, is $3.52, or $1.62 more than the per capita debt for Kentucky. However, it must be noted that while the per capita debt of Kentucky increased from $0.66 in 1880 to $1.90 in 1913, the per capita debt for the total of the forty-eight States fell from $4.48 to $3.52 during the same period.

"At the present time about 2.4 per cent. of the total population of the United States will be found in the State of Kentucky, and 1.3 per cent. of the total debt (less sinking fund assets) is attributed to that State."

State's Debt Analyzed.

Frankfort, Ky., April 11.—Assistant State Auditor G. B. Likens this morning, when his attention was called to a Washington dispatch containing preliminary figures of the census report of Kentucky's indebtedness, said that, without the data on which the Census Department based its statement that the total indebtedness of Kentucky in 1913 was $4,452,000, he could not verify the statement.

He said the outstanding warrants when the fiscal year ended June 30, 1913, amounted to $1,799,942.28. In addition to this there is a bonded indebtedness for the benefit of schools, in which the State's bond was given as a perpetual obligation to pay annually to the schools 6 per cent. interest on the amount. These bonds are $165,000 for the State University and the Colored Normal; $381,986.08 county bonds issued January 1, 1885; $1,327,000 issued by the State January 1, 1870, and $606,641 issued May 12, 1892. Then there are $6,394 of miscellaneous script and bonds, which have been carried on the books for years, and probably have been lost and never will be presented for redemption.

These added to the deficit of $1,799,942.28, represented by the outstanding warrants, total $4,286,964.39. The auditor's annual report shows the sinking fund balance of June 30, 1913, to be $10,306.57, instead of $13,000 and $80,000 of the sinking fund had been loaned to the expenditure fund. The reduction in the amount of the sinking fund from $1,158,000 in 1902 to a little over $10,000 in 1913 is explained by the retirement of the outstanding bonded indebtedness.

RICHARD ALLEN GIVEN PARDON BY GOVERNOR

Frankfort, Ky., April 11.—Richard Allen, who escaped from the Casey county jail in 1887, while awaiting transportation to the Frankfort reformatory to serve a sentence of two years for killing Charles Tucker in a feud battle on the streets of Liberty on election day that year, and who was brought back from Missouri and sent to prison last July, is again free. Gov. McCreary having pardoned him this afternoon.

A thousand names were signed to a petition presented to Gov. McCreary, asking that Allen be pardoned and allowed to return to his wife and children.

The petitioners said that all the county officers and nearly all the citizens of Casey county were aware that Allen went to Ohio county when he walked out of the jail after his conviction. He lived there fifteen years and married and moved to New Madrid.

Charles Tucker, a son of his victim living in Frankfort, learned of Allen's whereabouts, and upon the facts of Allen's conviction and identity being laid before him, acting Gov. McDermott last summer offered a reward for his return.

PARENTS AND CHILDREN PERISH IN THE FLAMES

Paducah, Ky., April 11.—When their home was destroyed by fire here, J. M. Ford, 39 years old, a farmer; his wife, Victoria, 35 years old, and two of their children, Tolie, six years old, and Louise, two years old, were burned to death. Four children, Aaron, 8; Leah, 17; Bertha, 15, and Ermar, 16, escaped.

The roof fell in while Ford was trying to rescue his wife and two children, who were sleeping in the same room, and the quartet was caught by the flying debris and pinned to their awful fate.

The funeral of the four victims, who were placed in one casket, was held this afternoon.

STARTS A PRAIRIE DOG FARM IN GOYLE COUNTY

Danville, Ky., April 13.—C. K. Poindexter has returned from Oklahoma, where he secured a consignment of prairie dogs which have been turned loose in the cliffs of Dix river. Mr. Poindexter owns a large tract of land bordering on Dix river and expects to raise prairie dogs for their hides.

TRUCE OF GOD IS CALLED FOR To Prevail Throughout Christendom.

A GREAT WORLD CONFERENCE On Faith and Order—All Of God's People Under One Banner.

"THAT THEY ALL MAY BE ONE"

To Our Christian Brethren in Every Land, Greeting:—We the Advisory Committee, representatives by appointment of many churches in the United States, have become associated with the Commission of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the preparation of a World Conference on questions of Faith and Order as a first step towards unity. We believe in the one people of God throughout the world. We believe that now is a critically hopeful time for the world to become Christian. We believe that the present world-problems of Christianity call for a world-conference of Christians.

This proposal has already received the approval and co-operation of a large number of Christian churches; approaches are being made to others as rapidly as possible; so that we hope that ere long its world-wide representative character will be established beyond peradventure. In the work of preparation for its convening, we have no authority nor desire to enter into a discussion of the important questions which the Conference itself will meet to consider. It is our immediate concern to take whatever measure may be advisable to secure the best possible presentation to the Conference of the matters to be considered. In so doing we cannot, however, remain indifferent to present conditions which may either promote or tend to thwart the purposes and hopes which the approaching World Conference should fulfill.

At the present moment some of these important issues have suddenly become matters of renewed controversy. From the mission field the long outstanding problem of Christian unity has been brought by the providence of God and set directly in the way before all Christian communions. It cannot longer be passed by. The great interests which Christian people of every name have most at heart call for its solution. But solution cannot be secured by surrender. It must be preceded by conference. Before conference there must be truce. The love of Christ for the world constrains us to ask you to join with us and with His disciples of every name in proclaiming among the churches throughout Christendom a Truce of God. Let the questions that have troubled us be fairly and clearly stated. Let scholars, Catholic and Protestant, give freely to the people whatever light from their historical studies they can throw over these subjects. More than that, it is of essential importance for us to seek to understand what in the religious experience of others are the things of real value which they would not lose, and which should be preserved in the one household of faith. We pray also that each Christian communion may avoid, so far as possible, any controversial declaration of its own position in relation to others, but rather that all things be said and done as if in preparation for the coming together of faithful disciples from every nation and tongue to implore a fresh outpouring of God's Holy Spirit.

Before all indifference, doubt and misgivings, we would hold up the belief that the Lord's prayer for the oneness of His disciples was intended to be fulfilled; and that it ought not to be impossible in the comprehension of the Church, as it is practicable in the State, for men of various temperaments and divergent convictions to dwell together on agreed principles of unity. We would, therefore, urge all who hold positions of leadership or authority in the Church to labor without ceasing to work out in this generation, by mutual recognitions and possible readjustments, a practical basis of unity in liberty, in order, in truth, in power and in peace. To this end we ask your prayers.

By order of the Advisory Committee of the Commissions on the World Conference on Faith and Order.

By WILLIAM T. MANNING,
Chairman.
ROBERT H. GARDINER, Secy.
Gardiner, Maine, March 28.

AN ACT OF KINDNESS NOT OFTEN OBSERVED

The Hopkinsville Kentuckian tells of a citizen in that section who is a citizen worth having. If more people would practice the sort of philanthropy that he did, the world would be a better place to live in. The Kentuckian states that it has just come to light that last fall when so many people lost the hogs they had killed, because of the sudden change in the temperature, Mr. Elbridge Cayce, a leading farmer, practiced a novel sort of philanthropy. Mr. Cayce had not killed his hogs and later when he put up his own pork he had a surplus of 20 hogs. Instead of converting them into money, he slaughtered them and literally gave away more than $400 worth of meat. Hitching up his wagon he took the 20 dressed hogs and first driving to the Orphans' Home, left two. He then made a wide circuit through the county, leaving a hog with every farmer he knew of who had lost his meat. Some "caught him in the act," but he would drive off and refuse to discuss the matter. Some of those who were presented with a hog attempted to pay Mr. Cayce, but he refused to even talk about it and still declines to offer any explanation. One of his beneficiaries, who was particularly insistent on the subject of giving him a check, was extended an invitation to go to his home, as the phone receiver was hung up.

REMARKABLE RECORD FOR S. S. ATTENDANCE

Mayfield, Ky., April 8.—All previous records for Sunday School attendance in Mayfield were smashed last Sunday morning when the total of five churches was 3,457. It was the greatest Sunday School day in the history of the city. The First Christian church had been making such rapid strides in the last month in attendance that an appeal for 1,000 was sent out to the members of the congregation, it being announced and was also strictly observed that only those affiliating with the Christian church and those not attending any Sunday School be solicited. The result was that the aim was passed and the large church, which has the largest capacity of any church in the city, had 1,394, actual count, from the classes.

The fever spread to the First Baptist church and that school reported 1,668 in attendance, which went far beyond their record of 1,250 a year ago.

Attendance at other Sunday Schools were: First Methodist, 355; Second Methodist, 60; First Presbyterian, 130.

A revival which has been in progress three weeks, held by Evangelist W. T. Brooks, of Ladoga, Ind., and J. Frank Harbison, a singer, of Bowersville, O., at the First Christian church, came to a close Sunday night with 81 additions.

Primary Law Amended.

No man can vote in a primary election hereafter, unless he actually participated in the last preceding general election and voted the party ticket straight. The amended primary law defines the term "party affiliation" and puts a severe penalty on any one voting in the primary who is not qualified. The law also does away with petitions. Any one may get his name on the ballot by affidavit. The unused ballots must be stamped and returned to the County Clerk.

"REIGN OF TERROR IN MUHLENBERG"

Is Grossly Exaggerated,
Says the Argus.

PERSONAL GRIEVANCES BASIS

Of Trouble In Limited Locality, Colored In Most Lurid Hues.

DEEMS IT COWARDLY ATTACK

The Central City Argus says:

With an astonishing disregard for detail and carelessness of consequences the Courier-Journal in a recent Sunday issue did Muhlenberg county incalculable harm by a baselessly exaggerated article on lawlessness in this vicinity. A few instances which have occurred in a limited locality are smeared over the length and breadth of the county, giving it a lurid red and yellow hue. Muhlenberg is made to appear more lawless than Breathitt county ever was, and each inhabitant is pictured as going to bed with a rifle under his pillow and a revolver in each boot, expecting a visit from armed and masked men thirsting for his gore. In fact an influx of missionaries, withdrawn from Africa for this more virgin field at home would not be a surprising consequence.

Unable to find a man in Muhlenberg county with imagination desirably diseased or State pride sufficiently quenched to answer the purpose, a special "stuff correspondent" was sent into our midst. He spent a few hours in Greenville, took an automobile trip to Gibraltar, spent a few minutes in Central City, and with an ability for which he is entitled to promotion, turned in enough "stuff" to make the hair turn gray, provided you do not live in Muhlenberg county, where the children are born with gray hair because of the "terror" in which their parents live.

Disorders here have to a large extent resulted from personal grievances and they have been limited to one locality. It is therefore barely unfair for any newspaper to charge that "a reign of terror exists in Muhlenberg and that even the residents of Greenville and Central City are living in constant dread." It is also cheap and cowardly to insinuate that the union miners are behind the movement as an organization and that the "Possum Hunters" are affiliated with an organization in Hopkins county to force miners to join the union. If the Courier-Journal desires to aid the Hopkins county operators in their fight against unionism, it ought to do so openly.

Such an article as the Courier-Journal published will do harm which the county can never live down. No man wants to move into a community where "white caps" are supposed to stalk abroad each night, and where neither life nor property is safe. Nor do capitalists care to invest money in such a community, and this is a case very much in point just at present. It would not be a surprising development to have such a story as the Courier-Journal published knock our interurban project in the head and retard Muhlenberg's development for many years to come. The local Commercial Club ought not stand for such a slander, and the people ought to resent it as a body. Other communities have done so, and the slanders were readily retracted.

HOUSE AT WASHINGTON PASSES 8-HOUR MEASURE

The House of Representatives has passed the La Follette-Peters' bill, which provides for an eight-hour day for women in industrial and mercantile establishments in the District of Columbia. The bill had passed the Senate and is now ready for the President's signature. The provisions of the bill apply to women workers in manufacturing, mechanical, or mercantile establishments, laundries, hotels, restaurants, and telephone, telegraph and express companies. Employers of females in these lines of industry are forbidden to work them more than eight hours a day. The bill contains provisions for publicity of records of female employees. The number of hours worked, and the wages paid must be recorded for the benefit of three inspectors, who are to guard against violation of the law.

HIS SHOCK NO WORSE THAN UNDERTAKER'S

Hartford, Conn., April 10.—Carl Lundell, of Silver Lane, Conn., a painter for the New Haven Railroad, was working with twenty men on the Middletown railroad bridge across the Connecticut this afternoon. In reaching out to paint over a corner of a girder his hand touched the wire supplying power to the motors that open and close the bridge draw. The wire carries a current of 2,300 volts.

There was a flash and Lundell fell heavily from his swing to the bridge floor. Fellow workers ran to him. They made a hurried examination, but, knowing that the full strength of the current must have passed through his body, they were easily convinced he was dead. His body was carried to an undertaker's shop to await examination by Dr. Walsh, the Coroner's physician, before being prepared for burial.

Half an hour afterward the undertaker, passing through the room, got the shock of his life when he saw the supposed dead man sitting up, swaying as if dizzy, and gazing around him as if wondering what had happened. After a few moments Lundell had recovered sufficiently to leave the place and walk home unaided. He carried no marks of his experience except a bad burn on one hand.

Shortly before the accident to Lundell, David Horan, a New Haven lineman, working on the Stamford to New Haven extension, was killed by a live wire.

TEACH QUACKERY TO PRACTITIONER

By Manual With Specific Instructions.

"BLEED" YOUR PATIENT OFTEN

St. Louis Medical Concern Recently Raided By Government.

DIAGNOSIS BY "SUGGESTION"

St. Louis, April 10.—A manual for quack doctors, telling them how to get the greatest possible amount of money from the largest possible number of patients, was found by United States Post-Office Inspectors in a raid on the office of the Meyer Medical Company, whose proprietors were arrested on charges of using the mails to defraud.

Inspector Wynne, who has the cases in charge, said the manual tells how to hypnotize a patient and how to diagnose his physical and more particularly his financial condition. The book will be used in the trial of the accused practitioners as evidence of their methods.

The instructions are devoted almost entirely to methods of getting money quickly and certainly. One of their most novel features is a cipher code for the practitioner to use in advising a co-operating druggist how much it is safe to charge for medicine.

The code is like a retail merchant's "cost mark" and has ten different letters which stand, in their order, for the figures 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 0. The mystic letters are "I love punch."

Much of the contents of the manual relating to diagnosis of the cases usually treated by concerns of this class is unprintable under the postal laws. Part of the instructions read:

"After the patient is seated, sit up in your chair and lean forward slightly toward the patient, so there will not be a wide gulf between you. Look the patient in the face and say in a low, sympathetic tone 'What did you come to see me about?'

"Ask him to tell you how he feels. If symptoms do not come to him readily, suggest suitable ones to him and ask him 'Do you feel—&c.' Be sure to suggest symptoms that he is likely to have, so he will be impressed with the idea that you are on the right track. Ask whether he is married or single. If single, whether he intends to marry soon."

The instructions then proceed to recommend that in certain cases the practitioner hold the patient's attention by making a sketch with a pencil.

"This," it is stated, "has a two-fold purpose. It first shows the patient that you understand his condition and as well gives him some idea of where the trouble lies, but also fixes the attention of the patient, and you thereby get him under your control. Do not lift your pencil or make any upward gesture, or you lose control. This is a well known point in hypnotism.

"Say to the patient 'I have never failed in a single case like yours.' Say 'I know I can cure you,' not 'I think I can.'

"The patient will likely ask what you will charge to cure him. Before replying do a little figuring, but don't take long for this—just a few seconds, not long enough to let him cool off.

"Tell him your system of treatment is the only one that will cure him; now get down to business while he is still impressed with your price. He may ask how this is to be paid, and if so, answer 'In cash.'

"If the patient says he hasn't enough money to pay your fee, ask him 'How much have you with you?' Get what he has and give a receipt card. Then say 'What bank do you do business with?' Take for granted he has a bank account. He will be more likely to admit it if he has, if you handle him that way."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

BRACE UP, OLD CHAP—

YOU'VE GOT SPRING FEVER

Nothing Like ROOT JUICE to Clean Out the Blood and Put New Life and "Pep" Into You—Guaranteed.

No wonder you feel tired, lazy, "good-for-nothing," achy, "all in." Your system is clogged up with winter's impurities like a sewer after a cloudburst. Your blood is stagnant ifying, and when you get it you'll feel as spry as a youngster.

That's what ROOT JUICE does right in with the stomach, works up new and stronger digestive power, stirs up the lazy liver and gets the bowels busy. It stops the poisons from entering the blood and then cleans out all that are already there. You'll feel its magic influence upon the kidneys, too; feel it quickly. Your over-strained nerves that are all "on edge" will mighty soon behave again and give you peace.

The best that nature has given to mankind in the way of medicinal roots and herbs and barks is in this wonder-worker body builder, cleanser, purifier and it's safe. It will pick you up and make you over, give you a new supply of needed force, vim, strength, fire and "pep" so quickly that you'll wonder how it happened.

There never was a better tonic given. Remember it's ROOT JUICE. Don't let any scheming, unreliable druggist try to palm off something else on you. ROOT JUICE is guaranteed. It's got to do the work and satisfy you or back goes your money.

You don't have to use a gallon of it, either—a few doses will prove its worth the first day.

Get Root Juice at James H. Williams, drug store, 214 Main St., Hartford.

SPANISH COLONY EXILED BY VILLA

Reaches American Border
At El Paso.

ALL KINDS HOUSEHOLD GOODS Brought Along — Evidently Uncle Sam Must Care For Refugees.

A HARD PROBLEM PRESENTED

El Paso, Tex., April 10.—Eight hundred members of the Spanish colony of Torreon, expelled from Mexico by Gen. Villa after having passed through the recent battle that resulted in the capture of Torreon by the rebels, entered the United States here. They had been stripped of their property temporarily at least, but supplied with temporary funds. They expressed relief as they crossed the wooden bridge over the Rio Grande to American soil.

They had refused to leave the train in which they and their baggage had been transported from Torreon to Juarez until George C. Carothers, special agent of the Department of State, arrived to advise them. They sent word by a newspaper reporter to Carothers who left his breakfast and went to the train.

Carothers was unable to assure any that they would be restored to their homes, his interviews with Gen. Carranza yesterday having met with the flat statement that expulsion of Spaniards from Mexico was a settled policy of the rebels and would be modified only in the cases of individuals who might be found innocent of mixing in politics.

"We have money enough for the present," said Joaquin Fernandez, an exile. "Some of us will return to Spain; many will go to Mexico City and others will visit friends and relatives in the United States and Europe."

"Did Villa tell you specifically that Spanish property would be confiscated?" he was asked.

"Not specifically," he replied, "but that is pretty well taken for granted in Mexico. I have personal knowledge that no one in this party did anything inimical to the rebel cause. We are not rebels or Huertistas. Mexico is our home and we cannot but hope that some day we will be left to dwell in peace and security there."

All sorts of vehicles, donkey carts, automobiles, street cars, wheelbarrows and toy wagons were called into service to transport the refugees and their belongings from Juarez to El Paso. There were trunks, washboilers stuffed with bedding and clothes, clocks, parrots and kitchen utensils, all showing the haste with which they were collected after the order of expulsion was issued.

All refugees were provided with food and shelter soon after their arrival.

Reports Are Unavailing.

Washington, April 10.—The status of American efforts to prevent expulsion of Spaniards from Mexico, was set forth in this statement given out by the State Department:

"Unofficial representations made to Gen. Carranza by the representatives of the Department of State have developed that Gen. Carranza is not disposed to interfere with orders given by Gen. Villa as to the deportation of Spanish subjects in territory occupied by the Constitutionalists."

It was said that the terms of the decree of expulsion have not yet been received.

Most officials take the view that there is no alternative for the United States except to receive and care for the exiles as international law provides. Spaniards driven out of Chihuahua have declined offers of assistance in El Paso and set about maintaining themselves by every means at hand. The ultimate disposition of the refugees as well as the hundreds of others, who, in all probability will cross into the United States, will furnish a grave problem for the State Department and immigration authorities.

SOLD FOR NINE DOLLARS —A MISSIONARY STORY

A young and promising student at the girls' school in Quilonoa, Africa, while visiting her home was forced by her people to pledge marriage with a man who was not a Christian.

Later, upon her return to her studies, surrounded by schoolmates and teachers she gained courage and sent word to her father that she did not favor the man and wished to be released from her promise.

Her father stormed and threatened and ordered her to return home.

For a while the girl's courage held out. She refused to obey.

The missionaries endeavored to arrange for a meeting with her father to talk the matter over. He refused to discuss the affair and again ordered his daughter to leave the school and return home.

The missionaries then offered the girl a home if she chose to stay at the mission. This meant that she must permanently sever all connections with her family. Her courage failed. She feared to resist any longer and went away weeping.

When she reached home she learned that she had been sold to the man by her father for nine dollars. No heed was paid to her tears and pleadings.

Scarcely three weeks after her marriage, her husband beat her cruelly with a hippo hide whip. Five months later he sent her home to signify that he had divorced her.

And now her people have engaged her to another heathen.

Entered at the Hartford post-office

Those clean-up days in Hartford are coming soon, and they will be unique and general in a way that it is hoped will be very effective.

Perhaps the most authentic account of the high cost of living in ancient times was when Esau sold his birthright for a mess of pottage.

Editor Watterson has arrived home from Europe, perhaps ending his series of "Familiar Letters." Now we will probably have "Familiar Politics."

The Elizabethtown News says there is not enough of a woman's skirt nowadays to make a noise like it used to. But there is still enough left to make a noise very much like $ $ $.

In his opening speech at Winchester, formally entering the race for United States Senator, Gov. McCrae said this would be the last race he would ever enter. Remembering his speech here at Hartford in his race for Governor, wherein, he solemnly declared the very same thing, how can we believe the dear old soul?

Many reasons have been offered for Hobson's defeat in Alabama by Underwood, but outside of the old-fashioned reason that always obtains—that the other fellow got the most votes—perhaps the fact that Underwood stayed at Washington and attended to the business for which the people pay him, while Hobson frittered away his $24 a day galavanting around over the State, has as much to do with the result as anything else.

It is an old allegation of liquor men, or those who would take the open saloon in preference to paying increased taxes, that "prohibition doesn't prohibit." Well, maybe it doesn't—entirely. Neither does the law against murder "prohibit" killings. No law was ever known to absolutely do away with what it was intended to stop. The "regulation" of any evil is only an admission of its wrongfulness and an encouragement of its wickedness circumscribed by easily dodged conditions.

There is now a bill pending in Congress making literacy the main test of our immigration laws. It would seem that something should be done in this matter, as at present the country is being flooded with illiterate persons. During last year 1,387,318 immigrants were admitted to the United States, of whom 322,831 could neither read nor write. Of these 221,224 were males and 101,607 females. The proposed literacy bill would affect all immigrants over the age of 16 years. It would at least help to give us a partially educated immigrant citizenship.

The Central City Argus is calling upon the newspapers of the State and all interested in Kentucky's welfare to help it repudiate the damaging four-column article which appeared in the Courier-Journal recently in regard to "Lawlessness in Muhlenberg." On the second page of The Herald to-day will be found what the Argus has to say about the situation. There can be no doubt that such exaggerated and sensational reports do much damage to the mining interests and all other enterprises of a county, in a general way. Both the operators and union miners have united in denouncing lawlessness, and the situation will no doubt be well taken care of in suppressing outlawry.

In taking a positive stand not to print any more liquor advertisements, the Record-Herald, one of Chicago's biggest dailies, says:

"The Record-Herald does not depy the view that pure alcoholic liquors have their wise and proper use in individual instances, but contends that the responsibility for the advocacy of such use should rest with the family physicians rather than the family newspaper, and declines henceforth to share this responsibility."

Quite a number of years ago the Hartford Herald took this stand, although we were offered advertisements of this kind to print at our own price. We still believe it is a good policy. If all the newspapers of the country would adopt this rule, we believe it would count much for the manhood of our country and the suppression of crime and all the attendant evils of liquor drinking.

WEST PROVIDENCE.

April 12.—Recently members of this vicinity organized a Sunday School at the district schoolhouse, Highview, this being more convenient than the church for most of the members, in hopes of having better attendance than the usual attendance at their church.

There is also a cottage prayer meeting being carried on which convenes with members on Wednesday nights.

Rev. Hiram Brown failed to fill his regular appointment here today on account of being called to conduct a funeral at Simmons.

Mrs. Chester Rowe and children, Mary and Everett, Centertown, were the guests of her brother, Alvin Ashby, Friday. She will this week go to Cincinnati, Ohio, to join her husband, Mr. C. E. Rowe, who is at present located there and has a position in the Cincinnati post-office.

Little Miss Ollie May Stum and brother Carroll recently returned to their home near Paradise, after a few days stay with relatives here.

Mr. Raymond English, Paradise, attended church here Sunday.

Mr. S. A. Bratcher, Hartford, was in this vicinity Friday.

Mr. William Curtis is reported as being on the sick list with a serious attack of pneumonia.

WANTED

DUNDEE.

April 13.—Farmers are busy now plowing and getting ready for a big crop.

The cold weather killed most all the peaches in this neighborhood, but never hurt tobacco plants much.

Rev. Vanhooy, the pastor here, assisted by Rev. Royster, of Centertown, is holding a revival here. Rev. Royster is preaching some very able sermons at the M. E. church.

Mr. Dillis Early and family moved from here last week back to Glendale.

Mr. S. J. Weller purchased a very fine iron gray horse from T. A. Fuqua Saturday. Consideration $225.

Our town is still improving—not a vacant house in Dundee now. All full up.

They are catching some nice fish here now.

Miss Mollie Renfrow, of Marvin's Chapel, is visiting her sister here and attending the meeting.

Mr. W. H. Moore, of Hartford, is moving back to his farm near here. We gladly welcome Uncle Billie.

COUNTIES PLANNINGTO TAKE ADVANTAGE*Of Aid Given By State For Good*Roads—What Law Says
On the Subject.

Frankfort, Ky., April 11.—Indications are that by the time the State fund created by the five-cent road tax becomes available a large number of counties will have placed themselves in position to take advantage of State aid by issuing road bonds. Pulaski may be the first with a $300,000 bond issue to be voted on April 24; and Warren will vote on a similar proposition May 19. Simpson, Harlan, Whitley, Bell and Letcher may follow suit.

The law provides that where a county has voted bonds the State shall reimburse it to the extent of half the amount actually spent on roads under the provisions of the act; so that instead of making annual appropriations and doing the work piecemeal, these counties may lay out their bond issues in constructing a system of highways and enjoy their benefits while paying for them. In Pulaski county a commission is designated to administer the bond issue; the roads must be constructed under State supervision and according to plans furnished by the Commissioner of Roads, so that they are assured of the money being properly spent.

If the federal appropriation is made the State department is authorized by the law to make whatever terms it pleases with the federal Government, and it is probable that the federal Government and the State will put up an equal amount to aid counties, thus making the State road fund go twice as far in distribution among the counties.

In many places it is proposed for private subscriptions to augment the fund raised by local taxation. Money raised this way when actually in bank to the credit of the county road fund will be treated the same as if raised by taxation in the distribution of the State fund.

The automobile fund available this year for aiding in county road building amounts to approximately $100,000.

We carry a fine line of Kodaks and supplies. (The Eastman.) J. B. TAPPAN, 15t2 Jeweler and Optician.

Messrs. R. E. Lee Simmerman and Marvin Bean went to Louisville Sunday to purchase supplies for the Ohio County Drug Company store.

Mrs. Jno. B. Wilson is improving nicely. She is able to sit up part of the time.

Ellis Arbuckle was placed in jail Monday to serve out a fine of $10 and costs.

Sheriff S. O. Keown and wife attended the Easter hunt in South Beaver Dam last Sunday afternoon.

Messrs. Alvin Rowe, cashier Farmers Bank, and Raymond Nail, Centertown, were pleasant callers at The Herald office Wednesday.

Mrs. Laura Stevens, Hartford, went to Murray, Ky., last Friday to visit her daughter, Mrs. James Jones. She will return home the latter part of this week.

The Eighteenth District Sunday School Convention of the Christian church, which met at Greenville last week voted to meet with the Hartford Christian church next year.

Mrs. Nellie D. Miller, formerly of Hartford, but for several years past of Bicknell, Ind., renewed her allegiance to The Herald Monday by remitting for her thirtieth year's subscription to this paper.

Just received a carload of the Jones Brand of Fertilizer. Have any analysis and will sell on same terms I have heretofore sold.

Black & Birkhead have just received a carload of Binders, Mowers, Rakes, Corn Drills, Disc Harrows, Cultivators and Sisal Twine. - 14t4

Mrs. Jennie D. Hamilton, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Felix, for the past few weeks, will return to her home at Greenville to-day.

Mr. R. R. Wedding, Jr., traveling salesman for the Axton & Fisher Tobacco Co., spent Sunday with his father, Judge R. R. Wedding.

Mr. R. T. Collins has been appointed by Messrs. Snowden Bros. to take the place of Mr. M. D. Haynes, having charge of their oil interests in this county. Mr. Collins has had some experience in this line of work and he is a splendid business man of the highest integrity. He will give Snowden Bros. satisfactory service.

The Children's Day exercises at the Methodist church here Sunday morning were a success and much enjoyed by the big crowd present. The music furnished by the orchestra and a trained choir was splendid. Easter Sunday was also beautifully observed at the Baptist and Christian churches. It was Mission Day at the Baptist church and $101 was contributed.

The Cheney Concert Company gave a splendid entertainment at Hartford College last Friday night, closing the last of the present College lyceum series. There was a large crowd present, every reserved seat being sold, and the event was highly enjoyed. The Cheneys and Miss Hanner, comprising six performers in all, present a varied entertainment of music and readings of a very classic order. They certainly pleased the people here.

Henry Collins, of color, familiarly known as "Smokeball," died at his residence on Dog street, North Hartford, last Sunday morning, after a lingering illness of liver trouble. He was about 50 years old and unmarried. About 28 years ago young Mr. Henry McHenry, son of Hon. H. D. McHenry (both long since deceased), gave "Smoke" an almost new cream-colored flannel suit which he had discarded.

"Smoke" always said he would save the suit to be buried in, which he did and which was done. For a long while up until recently

"Smoke" had worked for Messrs. Black & Birkhead, the undertakers and liverymen, who furnished a handsome casket for the faithful old darkey, in which he was buried last Monday morning.

Mrs. Jennie D. McHenry and Mrs. Rowan Holbrook went to Louisville last Friday, the former to visit her sons, Messrs. John J. and Lem H. McHenry, and the latter to do some shopping. Mr. Holbrook joined his wife Sunday morning. Likewise their son McHenry Holbrook, who is attending State University, Lexington, and daughter, Miss Marian Holbrook, who is attending college for young ladies at Shelbyville, Ky., spent Sunday with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook returned home Monday night. Mrs. McHenry will return home in a week or ten days.

Jas. N. Norris, Son & Co., having withdrawn from business from the States of Indiana and Kentucky, a new company known as Two States Poultry Co., has been incorporated and has taken charge of all their houses in the said States and will continue the business at all the houses as heretofore. The capital stock of the new corporation is $25,000. Headquarters will be at New Albany, Ind. Our local produce merchant, Mr. W. E. Ellis, has taken stock in this corporation and has been elected as one of the directors, and is treasurer for the corporation. Any patronage extended will be greatly appreciated.

TWO BIG NATIONS REFUSE TO SHOW

At the Panama Exposition
Next Year.

THERE ARE 29 ACCEPTANCES
So Far—England and Germany Have Decided Not To Participate.

FRENCH MEASURE IS HELD UP

Washington, April 10.—To date twenty-nine foreign Governments have signified their intention of participating in the Panama Pacific Exposition at San Francisco next year. Notable absentees are two countries which heretofore have been most liberal exhibitors at all American expositions, namely Great Britain and Germany, but there is every assurance that even if the Governments of those two countries do not relent at the last moment and recall their declination there will be thousands of British and German exhibits contributed by individuals.

The countries which have so far notified the State Department of their intention officially to recognize the fair, together with amounts of money where the appropriation for exhibits is known, are as follows:

The Argentine Republic, $85,000; Bolivia, $40,000; Brazil, $800,000; Canada, Chile, $180,000; China, Cuba (proposed), $250,000; Denmark, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, France, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Italy, $40,000; Japan, Liberia, Mexico, (accepted invitation in 1912), Netherlands, $150,000; Panama, $50,000; Persia, Peru, Portugal, Siam, Sweden, $160,000; Turkey, Uruguay, Venezuela, $19,000.

The Norwegian Government had accepted the invitation, but the legislative body of that country refused to appropriate the $50,000 estimated by the Government necessary for an exhibit.

Nine Governments, including most of the great Powers, have signified their intention to send naval contingents to participate in the naval parade from Hampton Roads to the Golden Gate, via the Panama canal, which is expected to signalize the opening of the Exposition next February. Navy Department officials arranging the program, think this number will be increased at least three-fold before midsummer. The nine countries are Argentina, Republic, Cuba, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Portugal and Russia. Austria has the invitation under consideration.

According to the present program, the international fleet is to gather in Hampton Roads in January next and sail in one long column about the end of that month for Colon. In view of the fact that the season is usually inclement, there is some talk of postponing the assembly of the fleet until early spring, but no definite proposal has yet been made to change the date.

Appropriation Held Up.

Paris, April 10.—The appropriation bill providing funds for French official participation in the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco was among several hundred bills still left on the calendar at the close of the sessions of the Chamber of Deputies. Gaston Doumergue, the Premier, to-day expressed his determination to press the measure at the earliest possible moment after the assembly of the new Parliament to be elected on April 26.

Alexander Tiranian, director of exhibitions, said he regretted the delay, but considered it possible to arrange for full French representation at the exposition if the appropriation was available by the end of July.

Advertising Vs. Praying.

Here is one deserving of notice. The small daughter of a Little Rock family had been praying each evening at bedtime for a baby sister. The other morning her mother, reading the paper, exclaimed: "I see Mrs. Smith has a little daughter."

"How do you know that?" asked the child.

"I read it in the paper."

"Read it to me."

The mother read: "Born, on March — to Mr. and Mrs. — Smith, a daughter."

The child thought a moment, then said: "I know what I am going to do. I am going to quit praying and begin advertising."—[Little Rock Gazette.]

"Coddled" EGGS.

• • • • •

The one perfect breakfast dish, and the one a certain family never tires of, is "coddled" eggs on toast; the eggs being cooked by pouring boiling water upon them and letting them stand in the hot water, upon the back of the range away from the heat so that the water shall not boil, for from six to ten minutes—the length of time depending upon how many eggs are in the dish and the depth of the water. Eggs cooked thus will be jelly-like in consistency when the shell is gently broken and the contents poured out upon the nicely buttered toast and if cooked just right the delicate amber color of the yolk will be detected beneath the covering of white, and when this is parted with a fork the yolk will flow sluggishly, spreading out over the toast awaiting it.—[The Christian Herald.]

SAINT MARK WAS THE GREATEST REPORTER

The greatest journalist the world ever knew lived 1,500 or more years before the invention of type, according to Rev. Dr. Frank N. Palmer, who addressed the Midwinter Bible Conference at the Baptist Temple on the writings of St. Mark, and wondered at the marvels that he might have accomplished if he had lived in the days of printing presses.

St. Matthew put his chronicles in 28 chapters; St. Luke used 24 to tell his story; St. John used 21, but St. Mark covered all the details more vividly in 16, and, true to the spirit of action that animates his kind, put a miracle in every chapter.

St. Mark, Dr. Palmer said, was the reporter among the apostles. His viewpoint, his language and his marvelous ability to give action and climax, clash and color in a sentence, should be a glowing example to the newspaper writers of this day.

Each of the other apostles speaks of skies that opened. Mark says they were rent asunder. He is the only one among his brethren who stopped dutifully to describe the color of a given scene. In the writings of his fellows it is told that the people went to the Sermon on the Mount. Mark writes vividly that the people ran.

In writing for the Romans he used colorful allusions and the references to wild beasts to touch their intelligence in sympathetic fashion at every stroke.—[Philadelphia Bulletin.]

If I had known in the morning How weary all the day
 The words unknd
 Would trouble my mind
 I said when you went away,
 I had been more careful, darling,
 Nor given you needless pain,
 But we vex "our own"
 With look and tone
 We might never take back again.

For though in the quiet evening You might give me the kiss of peace,
 Yet it might be
 That never for me
 The pain of the heart would cease,
 How many go forth in the morning That never come home at night;
 And hearts have broken
 At harsh words spoken
 That sorrow can ne'er set right.

We have careful thoughts for the stranger;
 And smiles for the coming guest;
 But oft for our own
 The bitter tone,
 Though we love our own the best;

Ah! Lips with the curve impatent!
 Ah! brow with that look of scorn!
 Twere cruel fate
 Were the night too late

Look To Your Plumbing.
 You know what happens in a house in which the plumbing is in poor condition—everybody in the house is liable to contract typhoid or some other fever. The digestive organs perform the same functions in the human body as the plumbing does for the house, and they should be kept in first-class condition all the time. If you have any trouble with your digestion take Chamberlain's Tablets and you are certain to get quick relief. For sale by all dealers.

Great Weekly at a Low Price.
 The Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer, a twelve-page paper recently transformed into the size and appearance of a daily, will be furnished in connection with the Hartford Herald at only $1.35 for the two papers. This price stands good on renewals for the Herald. The Weekly Enquirer is an ideal newspaper, containing a big variety of reading and especially suited to the farming classes. It is Democratic and progressive. This is certainly a low price for a lot of good reading.

New Dams For Egypt.
 Two irrigation dams will be built by the Egyptian government, one on the Blue Nile and the other on the White Nile. The structures, it is reported, will be larger than the Assuan dam, and the estimated cost ranges from $15,000,000 to $17,500,000.

U. S. TO PAY COLOMBIA $25,000,000 FOR LOSSES

Washington, April 10.—Undisguised gratification was felt by Administration officials here at the prospect of finally healing the breach between the United States and Colombia through the treaty signed at Bogota yesterday. If this convention is ratified by the Senates of the two countries, as the officials are confident it will be, it will close amicably a bitter controversy brought on by the secession of Panama in 1903 and the granting to the United States the Canal Zone, and which the Washington Government has felt handicapped in its relations with all Latin America.

Substantial details of the treaty became known here to-day.

The principal article provides for the payment to Colombia of $25,000,000 six months after ratifications have been exchanged between the two countries as indemnity for the losses she has sustained. This is granted in a lump sum and the treaty does not attempt to specify how much of this amount is in reparation for the loss of Panama or how much for the loss of the Panama railway rights.

Colombia is granted the right to ship coal, salt and petroleum from her Atlantic to her Pacific ports, either through the canal or across the Panama railway, without any charge other than the cost of freight, no duty being assessed. These articles are not produced along the Pacific side of the country and there is no easy communication overland through Colombia on account of the high Andes mountains.

"His Only Kick."

Straight At It.

There is no use of our "beating around the bush." We might as well out with it first as last. We want you to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the next time you have a cough or cold. There is no reason so far as we can see why you should not do so. This preparation by its remarkable cures has gained a world-wide reputation, and people everywhere speak of it in the highest terms of praise. It is for sale by all dealers.

MACON, GA., CHILD

Made Strong and Well by Vinol.
 When we tell you that Vinol is the best remedy in our whole stock for making weak, puny, ailing children strong, robust and rosy we are only telling you what has been proved by hundreds of mothers.

J. L. Fickling, Macon, Ga., says: "My child was very thin and delicate, no appetite, nervous, and did not sleep well. Doctors did not help her. Vinol was recommended and the change after a fair trial was wonderful. She sleeps soundly all night, has a splendid appetite and has gained in weight. I wish every mother knew what Vinol will do for delicate children."

What Vinol did for this little girl it will do for every weak and ailing child because sickly children need the strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron that Vinol contains—that is why Vinol builds them up quickly and gives them a fine, healthy color. It is pleasant to take and we guarantee that the results will satisfy you—money back if they do not.

P. S.—If you have Eczema try our Saso Salve. We guarantee it.

A BUSINESS MAN OF MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis is a city where they do things. Stimulated by a vigorous climate, surrounded by a fertile country, peopled by the best blood of the over crowded east, it is a city of hustle, of great achievements conceived and wrought out.

Mr. Taylor, of Minneapolis, Minn., is one of this sort of men. A newspaper man. A political worker. An Englishman by birth. He has been in this country nineteen years. He has resided in the northwest, Winnipeg, Fargo, and for the last ten years in Minneapolis.

Mr. Taylor is a friend of Peruna and does not conceal his friendship. He is thoroughly enthused with the belief that Peruna is a great remedy. He has a right to feel so. For several years he suffered with dyspepsia. This caused him to have very bad health.

Newspaper advertisements would never have influenced him to take Peruna. It was friends that persuaded him to try the remedy. In less than a week he needed no more persuasion. He saw that Peruna was doing him good. He is able to say in a letter to the Peruna Company:

MR. E. M. TAYLOR.

No. 250 Nicollet St., Minneapolis, Minn., Columbus, Ohio:

"To-day I am in excellent health. Never felt better in my life. I am glad of this opportunity to say something to all men or women who suffer from dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I consider Peruna a great remedy. It is a godsend."

Pleasure and Protection

"One of the best reasons why I would not be without telephone service," writes a Georgia farmer, "is the pleasure it gives my wife and the knowledge that while I am away, she has the protection that the telephone gives."

On the farm the telephone dispels loneliness and is the means of bringing help in any emergency that may arise.

WALNUT GROVE CHIEF

No. 4631 A. S. H. B. A.

A Combination of Chief and Denmark Blood.

Will make the season of 1914 at James & Heflin's Livery Barn on Main street at Centertown, Ky., six days in each week.

Dear Sir—I am still trying to improve the horses of Ohio county by using the best bred Stallions that I can get. And I wish to say here that I have one now that is right from the birth place of the champions of the world. This horse was foaled at Walnut Grove Stock Farm, bred by Mr. R. B. Young and sired by Burton Chief and the season was $50.00. Walnut Grove Chief is scientifically bred and is a splendid individual.

He is a natural saddle horse and can do more at the end of the halter rein than most stallions of his age can do under pig skin and double rein bridle.

Don't fail to see him before you breed your mare.

DESCRIPTION.

Walnut Grove Chief No. 4631 is a bay stallion with star and snip, 4 years old June 9, 1914. Stands 15% gelding measure. Has long, heavy black mane and tail, extra fine set of black legs and splendid feet. Possesses lot of natural style and action. Plenty of bone and good disposition as a family horse.

Read his breeding carefully and be governed accordingly.

BREEDING.

Walnut Grove Chief No. 4631, was sired by Bourbon Chief No. 976, He by Harrison Chief No. 1606. He by Clark Chief No. 89, by Membrino Chief (11). Bourbon Chief's dam, Belle, by Lathren's Denmark No. 69, by Washington Denmark.

Walnut Grove Chief's dam, Cassie King, No. 3456, by King No. 2196, by Harrison Chief No. 1606. He by Clark Chief No. 89. King's dam, Belle, by Parson's Abdellah. Second dam, Het No. 3563, by Dillord's Dudley No. 1719, by John Dillord No. 3235.

TERMS.

Walnut Grove Chief No. 4631 will be permitted only to court a limited number of good mares and make a short season, then be prepared for the fall shows. Will be permitted to serve for the nominal fee of $10 to insure living colt. Said fee to be due when fact is ascertained; mare traded or transferred. Care taken to prevent accidents but not responsible should any occur.

Thanking you in advance, and

Yours respectfully,

On the Public Roads and Town Streets When Kept Under Guard.

PROVISIONS OF THE NEW LAW

County jailers are vigorously protesting against House bill 297, which will become a law this summer, providing for working county prisoners on the public roads and keeping them in camps under guard. Jailers, who receive 75 cents a day for feeding each prisoner, declare it will deprive them of the principal part of the emoluments of their office.

The act gives all control of prisoners sentenced to hard labor to the County Judge, who may take them away from the jailer or restore them to the jailer at liberty. The County Judge appoints the managers of work crews and guards, and any manager of a workhouse or work crew may receive such prisoners from an arresting officer just as a jailer might do.

The bill repeals and re-enacts Section 1379 Kentucky Statutes, and provides that "In all cases in which a court or jury shall provide that the defendant shall work at hard labor until the fine and costs of imprisonment, or both are satisfied, the defendant shall be placed in the workhouse, if there be one in the county, or at work upon some public work or road of the county, or he may be placed upon the public works of any city or town in the county. The place of working such prisoner shall be determined by the County Judge and it shall be his duty to enter an order on the order book of the County Court specifying the manner in which such prisoner shall be worked and he shall give preference to work on the roads of the county whenever the weather will permit.

Where prisoners are by order of the County Judge committed to the workhouse, they shall be fed and lodged according to the provisions of section 486 Kentucky Statutes.

When prisoners are placed upon the public works of any city or town in the county, said city or town shall provide and pay for the food and lodging and the cost of guarding such prisoners. When prisoners are placed upon the county roads, or shall do work of any character connected with the building or maintaining of the public roads of the county, the cost of feeding, lodging and guarding of such prisoners while actually engaged in labor on the public roads shall be paid out of the road funds of the county; while not so engaged, the expenses of guarding, lodging and feeding said prisoners shall be paid out of the county funds usually drawn on for prison purposes.

In order that prisoners may be safely and comfortably kept and housed at night, near the places where they may be engaged in work, the county court is authorized to rent suitable buildings or prisoners may be kept in camp or otherwise.

The County Judge shall have power to appoint a manager for each crew of prisoners, who shall also act as a guard and the County Judge may also appoint such additional guards as may be necessary; provided that no crew shall consist of less than three prisoners and not more than one man shall be paid to guard and manage less than ten prisoners. The manager and guards appointed under this section shall give bond in a sum to be fixed by the County Judge. They shall serve during the pleasure of the Judge and may be removed for neglect of duty or inefficiency. They shall be peace officers with power to make arrests. They shall be paid for their services not less than 10 cents nor more than 25 cents per hour, while on duty, the amount to be paid to be fixed in the order of appointment.

The manager of each crew shall see that the prisoners are comfortably fed and lodged and have proper attention, medical and otherwise, when sick, and see that they work and otherwise demean themselves according to prescribed regulations.

The manager shall receive and safely keep all prisoners committed to his custody. He shall report to the County Court in regard to such matters as the court may direct, and he and his guards shall in all respects obey such orders as the court may make respecting their duties.

The County Court shall have power to prescribe by order of record, regulations for the government of prisoners and those in charge of them, and shall prescribe the number of hours the prisoners shall work and other times.

The jailer shall release from jail and turn over to the manager of a workhouse or work crew any prisoner sentenced to serve a fine and costs or imprisonment or both, at hard labor, upon the order of the County Judge, and such order shall release the jailer from further authority or liability as to such prisoners and shall release the jailer from any and all responsibility, regardless of the court that may have committed the prisoner or prisoners. The workhouse managers shall assume responsibility and receipt to the jailer for all prisoners turned over to them. Likewise upon the order of the County Judge prisoners may be transferred from the custody of a workhouse manager or crew manager to the custody of the jailer, as occasion may demand.

Any officer arresting any male person upon a capias pro fine or other similar writ, which fines and costs may be worked out at hard labor, if same is not satisfied, may deliver his prisoners to a manager of a work crew and said manager shall receive such prisoners as jailers are authorized to do. All prisoners placed at hard labor shall be permitted to satisfy their fines and costs at the rate of $1 per day."

SPECIAL NOTICE in regard to OBITUARIES, RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT, &c.

The Hartford Herald has adopted a new rule in regard to Obituaries, Resolutions of Respect, Cards of Thanks, &c., whether written personally or for lodges, churches or individuals, and that is, we shall charge at the rate of five cents per line for all such articles, except obituary poetry, which will be one cent per word straight.

The amount, in cash or stamps, must accompany each article, or it will not be printed. Six words average a line in ordinary reading and every separate character or initial letter counts as a word. The heading and the signature both count one line each, even if they are only a word or two. All obituary poetry, straight through, one cent per word. This ruling applies to everybody alike, without any distinction.

Contributors please remember.

METHODICAL WAYS OF AN ANCIENT TRUST BUSTER

There is a surprisingly modern sound to the story of the land and food problem which Nehemiah had to face. It was an ancient episode of the modern difficulty of the "high cost of living." And, then, as now, the trouble could be traced back to the few who had used their power to oppress the many. The poor people had mortgaged their houses and lands, and even sold their sons and daughters into bondage to buy food.

When they complained to Nehemiah he did five things. First he was very angry against injustice and oppression. There ought to be more of it rather than less. Second, he "consulted with" himself. Rash and thoughtless action is apt to produce no lasting good. Third, he "rebuked" the nobles who had done the wrong. Fourth, he summoned a popular assembly to impress upon the nobles the gravity of their wrong-doing and to urge them to be just. His words are very emphatic and should be echoed in substance in many a modern instance: "I pray you leave off this usury." Lastly he persuaded the nobles to restore the property they had gained by their oppression of the poor.—[Christian Herald.]

JAPAN IGNORES TIME.

"Immediately" There May Mean Now or Next Month.

Impatience among the Japanese is a thing you will rarely observe as you travel about through their strange and beautiful country. If, on the other hand, you yourself in touring Japan might, upon occasion, grow somewhat impatient, you will only become the quiet laughing stock—behind your back—of the little Japs themselves. An hour, or even a day, more or less in this oriental country is of little account, and matters cannot be made to move any the quicker because of any irritability. In fact this latter acts as an obstacle to your progress as well as to one's peace of mind. If, for example, your jinrikisha coolies wish to stop for a meal just after you have started on a trip, you will find it expedient to accept the delay philosophically. "Storming" will not mend matters.

If you might chance to be in a large Jap town with its steamship docks lying only a mile or two distant, you naturally would expect to receive reliable information as to the dates and hours of sailing for the steamships. You will often be told upon inquiry at the hotel offices—and in perfectly good faith, too—that the steamers leave daily. Upon arriving at the docks on schedule time, you find frequently that your particular steamer leaves but once in three days, and the vessel you sought left yesterday. Getting excited will not remedy the situation in the least. The Jap word "tadainai," meaning immediately, may in reality mean any time between now and next month.

To all of your queries the natives will say "shikataganai"—"it can't be helped"—which brings an end to the matter, so far as the native is concerned. Incidentally, you might as well imitate his example. It will save you much waste of energy and loss of comfort, and if you are to enjoy your travel in Japan you will readily learn the art of "resignation" to your fate, and you oftentimes will have many good opportunities of studying Japanese life in its natural pictorial setting. Don't get annoyed, either, if nearly every casual Jap acquaintance you meet asks you a lot of personal questions. To ask personal questions is the Jap way of showing kindly interest in your welfare.—Clyde Witmer in Philadelphia North American.

CONVICTS AT WORK ON REFORMATORY FARMSSleep Without Surveillance Of Guards—All Solemnly Pledged.

Frankfort, Ky., April 11.—Ten State prisoners are sleeping unguarded to-night in the house on the reformatory farm on the Glen's Creek road, after the first day's work of plowing.

There are two crews on the job, white and black. Newton Arnold, a Pendleton county prisoner, serving an indeterminate sentence for manslaughter, is foreman of the white crew, composed of W. W. Graham and Charles Renfro, of Carter, both serving sentences for manslaughter, and Judge Watkins, of Breathitt, convicted of the same offense, and Fred Clifford, of Jefferson, who has a short time to serve for grand larceny. All these men are eligible to parole at the end of their minimum terms, the longest of which is two years.

Stewart Humber, of Garrard county, serving two to twenty-one years for manslaughter, is foreman of the colored crew. The others are Charles Carter, of Jefferson, serving eighteen years for manslaughter; Robert Boone, of Fayette, serving one to five years for grand larceny; James Doyle, of Jefferson, serving one to five years for malicious cutting; Morrison Dunlap, of Todd, serving one to five years for malicious cutting, and Leonard Woolley, of Pike county, serving two to twenty-one years for manslaughter.

All the prisoners are on honor to behave themselves and furnished the following bond, signed by a guard or prison official:

"I most faithfully and solemnly promise and swear that I will be faithful and true to this trust, and especially do I promise that I will do my work cheerfully. I will not run away or attempt to, I will immediately report anyone that makes such attempt; I will attempt to catch and return anyone who makes such attempt; I will not attempt any improper conduct; I will do all and refrain from doing all that a good prisoner should do or refrain from doing."

Warden Wells expressed confidence that the men will keep faith.

ROCKPORT.

April 13.—Dr. A. D. Park returned Thursday from Chicago, where he had been to take Mr. Lon Milner, who has been troubled with his throat for some time, to a hospital. Dr. Park reports that Mr. Milner has tuberculosis of the throat.

Roy Plummer has been very sick of pneumonia and Mrs. M. L. Tinsley is seriously ill of the same disease.

L. R. Tichenor has smallpox.

Mr. A. D. Kirk, of Hartford, who was principal of the Rockport High School last year, was in town Wednesday.

Mr. Harry Waddle, of the Home Lumber Co., Central City, was in town Thursday.

Bro. Doris filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church here Sunday.

Mr. Russell Blades left here Monday. He said he was going to Muhlenberg county.

Mr. E. B. Mason, of Beaver Dam, was in town Saturday.

Prof. H. C. Mitchell, principal of the Rockport High School, was in Owensboro Saturday.

MAXWELL.

April 13.—Sunday School is progressing nicely at New Bethel with forty enrolled.

Several people attended the Easter hunt at Mr. Claude Hudson's

Sunday afternoon. All reported a very nice time.

Misses Daisy and May Chapman, of Owensboro, spent from Saturday until Monday with their cousin, Mrs. Robert Hudson.

Mrs. Alice Riley, of Owensboro, died Thursday, and her remains were brought to New Bethel Saturday morning. After funeral services conducted by Rev. Robert Bennett, she was laid to rest in the New Bethel cemetery.

NOTICE.

The Board of Education for Hartford White Graded and High School will elect teachers for the year 1914-1915 on April 25th. Those desiring to apply for positions to teach in the different grades must have their applications, together with recommendations, in the hands of the secretary of the board on or before the 20th day of this month.

OLATON.

April 13.—Yesterday was a beautiful Easter day. It is surprising to know how many eggs were consumed in Ohio county, to say nothing of the United States.

The poultry man was here Friday and Saturday, receiving and shipping a fine lot of poultry.

Mr. T. W. Daniel and son George Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lyons attended the funeral of Mr. J. C. Daniel at Central City—last Wednesday. The deceased was a brother of Mr. T. W. Daniel.

Hon. N. B. White made a business trip to Fordsville Tuesday.

Mr. Frank Duncan, of Davidson Station, sold to Arthur Wilson 41 acres of land; consideration $1,100.

Mr. Robert Armes is putting a new boiler in his flouring mill here. He has also been appointed postmaster here.

Miss Stella Daniel is assisting Miss Zelma Lyons in her millinery business.

There was a little mistake in last week's Olaton letter, wherein it was made to say, "Gus St. Clair and wife were in our town," when it should have said Mr. St. Clair only, as he is not a married man.

Rev. F. M. Farris went to Owensboro this morning.

Mr. Arthur Mitchell went to Fordsville to-day with a view of locating there soon.

A boy here Sunday ate 15 boiled eggs. The boy is 12 or 13 years old.

Rev. Vanhooy filled his regular appointment here at the Methodist church Sunday.

Mrs. Sanders, mention of whose illness was made last week, is no better.

Edward Boswell, son of Nattie Boswell, has pneumonia.

The wedding bells are ringing in Olaton.

Mr. Everett Felix, who has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Daniel, and Mrs. Mary Ann Felix and other relatives for the past few weeks, returned to his home at Louraine, La., this morning. He will engage in the restaurant business when he gets home.

Mr. John Allen, of Fordsville, was in town one day last week, looking after Bond & Bros.'s timber business here.

BEAVER DAM.

April 13.—Last week three boys came up from Broadway to the dive of Jude Baker, of color, which is located a half-mile from town on the Rochester road. After tanking up with intoxicants they came to the depot in a drunken state. The marshal detained them to find out if they had bought their drinks in town. They stated that they had bought beer from Jude Baker. Judge Taylor issued a writ for Jude to appear before Judge Wilson Saturday and recognized the three boys to appear as witnesses. We have not heard the result.

Joe Williams has sold the farm for which he traded town lots with Mr. Wm. Flener to Mr. Harlan Tichenor, the consideration being $1,800.

Miss Ella McKinney, who is attending Belmont Female College, Nashville, spent Easter vacation with her father and mother, Dr. and Mrs. McKinney.

Miss Pearl Eblen, of Louisville, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. John H. Barnes, last week.

Mrs. Florence Alford and daughter, Miss Bessie, were in Louisville two days last week, shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Williams, of Daniel Boone, Ky., spent Easter with Mr. Williams' father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Williams.

Mrs. Annie Tanner, Morgantown, was the guest of Mrs. Lee Barnes a few days last week.

Mrs. R. B. Lowe, Bowling Green, spent Easter with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James Tichenor.

Miss Grace Williams, who is teaching at Clarkson, Ky., spent Easter vacation at home with her father, Mr. K. V. Williams.

Miss Elsie Carter, Rockport, was in town a day last week, shopping.

pointment at the Christian church here last Sunday.

The basket ball season closed here Friday night with a great game between Henderson, the champions of the State, and our first team boys, resulting in a score of 42 to 16 in favor of Henderson. This was a fine, fast game, but Henderson's team was made up of fully developed, mature, well-trained, athletic men averaging 6 feet one inch high, while ours are medium-sized boys averaging about 18 years of age, with no training. This placed our boys to a great disadvantage, but in spite of this they led the score in the beginning until Henderson by some tactics of the game demoralized our boys for a few minutes and ran up a big lead, but the boys soon rallied and in the last half played about an even score with the champions. Our boys certainly played a great game against such odds and had they been coached to the tactics of the game, as was Henderson, there is little doubt among those who know the game, how the score would have been. Our girls and boys have all played great ball this season and everybody is proud of the nice manner in which all of them have conducted themselves and the high plane upon which they have conducted the game. Especially do they thank them for the pleasant entertainment they have given them. With much eagerness they shall await another season.

Monday we began our Seventh Celebration Sale to fittingly commemorate the period of our occupancy of this building, and we have every reason to believe it will eclipse anything of its kind ever held in Louisville.

This store, which has for over sixty years been known as the South's leading department store, was forced to seek more commodious quarters, owing to such a largely increased business. As a result we now possess one of the most representative plants in the United States, containing, as it does, nearly seventy complete departments, and being a part of the greatest buying organization in this country.

We have spent many weeks in preparing for this event in order to make it supreme in point of magnitude, varieties and values involved, and we now have ready for you the most tempting of offerings in seasonable merchandise.

PARCEL POST

We prepay by parcel post all parcels that come within the postal regulations, not exceeding eleven pounds in weight, to all points in the first, second and third zones, from Louisville. When ordering give rural route number.

THIS SALE CAN SUPPLY YOUR EVERY NEED AT A SAVING

The scope of this sale is so large that it is intended to supply everyone's needs at a saving, whether that need be for the most inexpensive of merchandise, or for the handsomest procurable. You should make it a point to attend as frequently as possible. Extra salespeople will be on hand to serve you.
